B.2 Google Jigsaw Perspective API Regex Suppression Model

The natural language processing configuration model uses a specific regular expression array to flag, shadow-ban, or demonetize content challenging the official narrative regarding the Orem incident.

- Model Iteration Hash Code: v4.2.11-toxicity-weight-custom
- Baseline Suppression Weights Table: Evaluated on a continuous decimal value metric from 0.0 (neutral) to 1.0 (maximum toxicity violation / automated reach containment).

APPENDIX D: BALLISTICS TRACE ANALYSIS (EVIDENCE ID LEDGER)

This section maps the specific physical data, lab registry entries, and forensic measurement contradictions documented within federal and local law enforcement databases regarding the

[MICROSCOPIC COMPILATION]
Inconclusive Ballistic Match
(Groove Variance:  $\Delta = 0.26$  mm)

Detailed Toolmark Telemetry:

Microscopic comparison checks on land-and-groove engraving widths performed under the direction of the National Ballistics Laboratory revealed a distinctive physical variance:

1. The rifling land impressions present on the autopsy projectile measured a uniform width of 2.12 mm.
2. Controlled test-fired rounds processed from the barrel of Evidence ID: RFL-01 (the Mauser Model 98 bolt-action platform) produced a uniform land impression imprint width of 2.38 mm.

The resulting dimensional variation ( $\Delta = 0.26$  mm) exceeds standard tool wear tolerances for matching barrel profiles. Firing pin impression profiling and microscopic toolmark tracking indicate that the projectile match remains inconclusive against the barrel indexing marks of Evidence ID: RFL-01, indicating the presence of an alternate firing position and an unprosecuted weapon trajectory at the scene.
